The News.

Our disputetes this evening contain what purports to be a muthful statement of the recent peace conference held on Saturday last at Fortress Monroe between-R. M. T. Hunter and Judge Campbell, The Courant adds: "parties of the second part." It will be seen that the confabulation ended whereit commenced—the rebel commissioners of their independence as the first step towards an adjustment of our national difficulties, and as Mr. Lincoln did not feel at liberty to ing, and to disregard the wishes of the American people as expressed through the ballot-box, he naturally declined sis, and so the conference ended where it began; and so ends, also, the great peace mission of that fussy, self-con stituted agent, Mr. Blair. It is not now on the Union side that should lead Mr. Lincoln could offer them any better section 158 of the act of June 30, 1864. been signalized by the unbounded success so stamping them, are subject to the same of our arms. The victories of Sheridan, Thomas, Sherman and Terry have been such as to inspire hope of final triumph in every loyal heart. The end has never of January, in New York, than at any seemed so near as now. We have beaten similar period for years. Sails have been them at all points, and have more than taken in all round to wait the coming twice as many effective soldiers in the field today as they. The Presideat has just called for 300,000 more treeps to add to the efficient force already under arms, and the signs of the times are truly most encouraging for goods, to the astonishment of all New the Union cause. At such a time and under such circumstances, to have just such a request made at the instigation of Jeff.

of the season. Mr. Lincoln has out himself in a position to be severely criticised for taking any notice whatever of the wishes of these Commissioners, because he was not assured in the outset that they were authorized to abandon the idea of Confederate independence. So long as they mean to adhere to that, just so long will our military leaders be the proper persons authorized to treat with them; and Mr Lincoln dedegrades the dignity of his exalted office by holding conferences with its first stated quota. any rebel agent whatever. When the rebels succumb to the authority of the constitution and laws, then it will be prop-er for the President to meet delegates at Fortress Mource or elsewhere if he Fortress Mource, or elsewhere, if he pleases, and inform them what grade of conspirators will be forgiven and what class must expinte their guilt upon the scaffold-in example and warning to rebels for all time to come.

Davis, is decidedly one of the coolest things

The echo of the tread of Sherman's gallant boys is again brought to us by the southern breeze. He is warming up the South Carolinians at the rate of twenty miles per day. Look out for music down there by the entire Union band.

General Grant has steared his army hospitals, and there are other evidences which look like a fight in that quarter.

On the inside of this paper will be found the statement of Miss Mary Harris who shot Burroughs recently. It will be seen that it differs very materially from the gecounts that have heretofore appeared in our paper. She insists that there had been no illicit intercourse between them. and that she shot him in a fit of rage and jealousy. She is the greater eriminal of the two, by her own showing.

THE Richmond Sentinel of January 28th. states as a gratifying evidence of their reconciliation, that Jeff. Davis and Stephens of Georgia, were engaged in a long consultation on public affairs during the previous day. This it will be remarked was just prior to Stephens' departure from Richmond for Fortress Monroe, in the character of a peace commissioner.

It is mentioned in diplomatic circles that Maximillian's Mexican envoy was received at St. Petersburg, but got only a polite note recognizing his appearance, and that no Russian envoy is to be sent at present to Mexico. There is reason to believe that this action of the Russian Government was taken upon the advice of its Minister

THE New York Herald publishes what it claims as a correct statement of the strength of the rebel army. It puts it at 168,000 men, all told, scattered from the James to the Red Rivers. If this be true the rebellion is nearer its end than we have allowed ourselves to hope.

AFFAIRS IN GRANT'S ARMY!

THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS. NEW YORK, Feb. 6 .- The Times' Wash-Fort Monroe in advance of Messrs. Steonce invited to an interview, and inform ed Mr. Seward of their desire to proceed ing the quostion of peace with the President. Mr. Seward informed them that it was the President's wish that the discussion should take place at Fortress Monroe, and that he had been sent to meet them at missioners pressed with considerable earn-estness for leave to visit Washington, and finally alleged that their government had missioners pressed with considerable earnfinally alleged that their government had consented to send them, only in consequence of Mr. Blair's assurance that they should have a personal interview with President Lincoln. Mr Seward assured them that this pledge should be fulfilled,

After Mr. Lincoln's arrival the conference lasted four hours and was perfectly friendly and good tempered throughout. On our side the conversation was mainly conducted by the President and on their side by Mr. Hunter, Mr. Stephens occasion ally taking part. The rebel commission ers said nothing whatever, of their personal views or wishes but spoke solely and exclusively for their government at the outset, and throughout the conference declared their entire lack of authority to make, receive or consider any proposition whatever looking toward a close of the war, except on the basis of a recognition of the in-dependence of the Confederate States as a preliminary condition. The President presented the subject to them in every conceivable form suggesting the most liberal and considerate modification of whatever in the existing legislation and action of the United States government might be regarded as specially hostile to the rights and interests or wounding to the pride of the Southern people, but in no single particular could be induce them to swerve for a moment from their demand for recognition. They did not present this conspicuously as resting on their own convictions or wishes, but as the condition which their government had made absolutely indispensible to any negotiations or discussions whatever concerning peace. President Lincoln, on the other hand, informed them at every point that such recognition was atterly and totally out of the question, and that the United States could stop the war and arrest even temporarily, the movements of its armies only on the condition precedent that the authority of the national government should be recognized and obeyed over the whole territory of the United States. This point conceded, he assured them that upon every other matter of difference they would be treated with the utmost liberality, but without that recognition the war must and would go on.

All the conversation which took place between the respective parties came back to this radical and irreconcilable difference. Neither side could be swerved a hair's the attempt at negotiation was an utter failure. Upon separating it was distinctly understood and explicitly stated that the attitude of each government was to be precisely what it would have been if this interview had never taken place. The Cabinet received these explanations as complete and satisfactory, and the feeling was upanimous and earnest that the country must now arouse itself to renewed efforts and prepare to make fresh sacrifices in the defence of the integrity of the Union and the preservation of the Government. As you know the source of this disputch I need not assure you that it is perfectly reliable.

New York, Feb. 5.—The morning papers throw no light upon the negotiations present selling at 921c in New York, state, Broms, Farins, Cat Meal, Pearl Barley, with a prospect of still further declining.

Late, Broms, Farins, Cat Meal, Pearl Barley, sixteen hours according to the Herald's but fifteen passengers correspondent. The President is reported time of the accident.

Union he was ready to wave all minor questions, but that as Chief Magistrate of the Republic, sworn to maintain the Union he could take into consideration no terms which involved its division. This great point the rebels confessed they did not feel authorized to decide and so the negotiations ended. The conference took place entirely on board one of the other of the three steamers which were anchored in Hampton Roads, where the negotiations could not minterrupted in their proceedings. It was conducted in the most cor-dial and friendly manner on both sides, but on the part of Mr. Lincoln at least, with equal firmness. Great anxiety is now folt to hear from Richmond.

FROM SHERMAN'S DEPARTMENT.

New York, Feb. 4.—The steamer Geo. cary arrived here to-day from Hilton Head, with Major Anderson, bearer of important dispatches from General Sherman. Sherman's forces were still advancing victoriously into the very heart of South Carolina, with every prospect of striking a disastrous blow on the rebel orces concentrated in the vicinity of Charleston.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 .- A letter from the ABE SAYS WAR TO THE KNIFE! Department of the South to the Times, dated Feb. 1st, states that a company of the 4th Massachusetts cavalry, under Lieut, Col. Bonnet, of Gen Hatch's staff, made a raid last week on the town of Gillensville, situated ton miles west of the Charleston and Savannuh Railroad, and eleven from Grahamsville. After burning the Court House, jail and one or two other public buildings, the party returned to Pocataligo. Consumed with the Court House was quite a number of the Beaufort county records, at the loss of which the few inhabitants of the place were considerably grieved. Nearly all of the docu-ments destroyed were of a recent bearing. A few days before our troops entered the place, a squad of the rebel Wheeler's cavalry had paid the same place a brief visit and made themselves extremely obnoxious among the towns people by appropriating all the cattle, chickens, hogs and such like property that they could lay their hands upon. The same letter states that a steamer recently in from the Florida ports brings us news of the capture of a portion of the 75th Ohio regiment, stationed at Jacksonville. On last Thursday, 40 men in command of a captain proceeded about 15 miles in the direction of Baldwin, their object being to assist a resident family in removing themselves and household goods to within our lines. They reached the house without meeting the enemy, and while engaged loading the wagons were surrounded by 400 mounted rebels. Our men immediately fied to the woods where they were closely followed by the rebels. The result was that only 15 of our men, including ington special says Mr. Seward reached the captain, succeeded in getting back to the Union lines. From the statement of an officer who recently left Jacksonville, > up by the party whom it was sought to succor. New York, Feb. 5 .- The Herald's correspondent from Sherman's army described the opening of that General's new campaign. The left wing of the army under Gen. Slocum had arrived at Shorters Ferry on the Savannah river fifty miles above the city of Savannah, without meeting any of South Carolina had considerable difficulty in getting through the swamps. The other troops who marched directly up the Georgia bank of the river had not such embarrassments to contend with. On the 20th ult. all of Slocum's men were at Sisters Ferry and supplies were being rapidly received. The right wing of the army is operating in a better country for marching than the left, and at some distance from it, but communication between the two is kept uninterrupted. One correspondent states that General Sherman proposes stirring up South Caroline at the rate of twenty miles a day.

Port Royal papers give full particulars of the loss of the monitor Potapsco and the gunboat Dacking, already recorded. The Potorsco was sunk in the harbor of Charleston on the night of the 15th of last month by one of the rebel torpedoes. She went down in 20 seconds after she was struck, and 50 of the persons on board of her were drowned, 43 boing sav-

The Daching got aground in the Combahee river, South Carolina, on the 26th ult., and after maintaining a severe fight ratification by the State Legislature of the with a rebel fort for some hours, and it amendment to the Constitution abolishing becoming apparent that she could not be got off, they set fire to her and she was burned to the water's edge. All her officers and crew except four, succeeded in captured the blockede runner Coquette from Charleston for Nassau with a cargo of cotton. New York, Feb. 6.—The Herald's conference, look upon the result as being very far from a failure. It is impossible for Lincoln or Seward to say to what extent the negotiations have failed or succeeded, until a reply of the report of Ste-

phone and his associates is received from Richmond.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—It is reported and clieved that since the President's return he has related to the Cabinet the particulars of his conference with the rebel commissioners and they all endorse his course. No official action has, however, been taken. To day's Chronicle says Stephens, Hunter, and Campbell have before this laid their case before the Southern people and these neonlo have heard or must soon hear that breadth from its position, and therefore the recognition of the rebellion. We are of course unable and unauthorized to say how much Mr. Lincoln was willing to concedo to. The Killing of A. J. Burroughs by Mary Harris, at Washington.

Brief mention has already been made in these columns of the lamentable Washington tragedy, in which Mr. A.J. Burnoughs, a well known and highly respectable citizen of Chicago, employed by the Treasury Department at Washington, was shot and almost instantly killed by a young woman from Burlington, Town, named Mary Harris." The Washington Chronicle of Wednosday published wrintement or confession made by the young woman, which certainly reliaves the deceased from the suspicion of having been upon terms of criminal intimacy with her. The statement is as fol-

My name is Mary Harris; and the daughter of William Harris, of Burlington, Iowa; my parents are Irish, and are seven years ago I first became arquainted with Mr. Burroughs; was then in a store in Burlington; Mr. Burroughs was residing there; he came frequently to see me as my father's house, from an early period in our acquaintance until he left Barlington; was very fond of him, and for a long time frequently sat in his lap in the presence of my parents; he always manifested great interest in mo; as I grew older, and his attentions became more of the character of a suitor, my parents opposed them; and con- that Mr. B. requested her to cut it out and tinually told me that his family was too preserve it, which she did. The notice high for me; that he never would marry me, and that I should not keep company with him. I disregarded them, persisted in socing, and become more and more at- lini of Baltimore, to Miss Mary G. Harris, tached to him. When he left Burlington of Burlington, Iowa. Mr. Burroughs, up-I did not ask him to write to me, but he on reading it, said, the was glad to learn of had not been long gone when I received a the marriage; hoped she had done well, lotter from him, which I answered and a correspondence was continued, which was sometimes interrupted by my refcaining from writing to him. But he would persovere in renewing it, until I would be persnaded to write to him. Before he left Burlington he asked me to marry him; 1 refused because I felt that I was too young to disobey my parents in such a matter,. He adways protested his ordent effection, and his determination to make me his wife.

About two years ago he wrote me that he was raising men for the war, and expected to got a commission, and then he was determined to marry me. Not long after, I received a letter from Miss Devlin, who keeps a store on Clark street, Chicago, requesting me to come there, saying that she was a friend of Mr. Burroughs, and I could see him there. About twenty months ago, I went to that city. Mean-time Mr. Burroughs, who had raised a company of troops, injured his ankle, could not go to the field, and resigned his commission. I saw him frequently, and received notes from him regularly until with in a few weeks of his marriage.

In August or September, a year ago, I received an anonymous note asking me to meet the writer at a house which I ascertained was one of "the most notorious in Chicago." Miss Devlin said she bolieved the note was from Burroughs, and I determined, if possible, to ascertain the truth. Miss Devlin endeavored to ascertain who put the note in the Post Office. I answered it, at her suggestion, promising to meet the writer at the place appointed. A friend of Miss Devlin in the Post Office I then determined to go to the louse appointed, and Miss Devlin went with me. We told her of the appointment, and that my friends would not let me see him elsewhere. The person in charge of the house stated that the gentleman was not there at the time, but that he had waited there before, and had instructed her not to answer the door-bell, but permit him to do so, saving that unless the party-he wished-to-see saw him she would not come in, and we did not remain. Her description further confirmed mo in the belief that Mr. Burroughs was the person who had made the appointment. Another note was received, stating that the writer had been unavoidsbly absent from the city, and making another appointment. I resolved to go again, mountime taking measures to have the house watched. The person (whom I believe to have been Mr. Burroughs) did not go to the house, and when we went there again it was losed and we could not obtain admittance. For some time before this I had not seen Mr. Burroughs. The writer of the anonymous letters said he had seen me often, was much preposessed in my favor, and wished to be a friend to me. Mr. Burroughs was a man of such marked appearance as not to be easily mistaken for another. I still felt most intense anxiety to be further satisfied, if possible, whether he whom I had so loved, and who had so protested his love for me, could be guilty of any such baseness. I then also determined to prosecute him for breach of proinise. I went to see his brother, Professor Burroughs, inquired of him whether Jackson was in the city. He walked the floor, asked me if I was from Iowa, and upon my replying in the affirmative, said that his brother was not then there, but had been and had gone to Washington. Shortly after I learned that he had been married by his brother, the Professor, I think the day after I was there. I then determined to come to Washington and proseeuto him, but continually deferred it entit last August, when Miss Devlin having repeatedly advised me to do so, and offered me all the aid in her power, I came here only to learn that he had gone to Chicago with his wife. I immediately returned, and on reaching Chicago employed a law-yer and a detective. I soon ascertained that he had again gone to Washington, but that his wife was believed to be in Chicago, and I supposed that he would return for her. So I waited a long time, with this expectation, but I subsequently learned that he had been there and gone without my knowledge. That renewed my resolve to come on hero and secure redress, if possible, by prosecution, and at all hazarda to see him. -

I had been disowned by my parents. I could not return to them; and in Burlington, as well as in Chicago, I had been roported to have bad improper relations with him. This was never so. And I was benton viridicating my character. If the stories against me had been true. I could never have had the heart to come here to seek redress or to vindicate my repute. I believed that I should wipe out the stain on my name by the prosecution or in some other way, I hardly knew how.
A few days before starting for Chicago geman, borer, (two weeks ago), I was walking along the street, and saw some pistols in a shop window. Having learned that many of the ladies in Chicago carried pistols, especially whon traveling, I determined to buy one, and at once bought the one. I did not know how to lead it. The morning of gament-Arms: while a printer occupies the day I left Chicago, I examined the the Vice President's chair. In the House printed directions upon the wrapper accompanying the pistol and cartridges, and or Pestmaster, and on the first Monday of by following them succeeded in loading December, 1803, the House of Representait. I was then called to breakfast, and tives chose a printer for their foreman or frantic with a desire to see him, and put on a "nubia" (which I was not went to wear) and a veil, and, so disguised, went to the Treasury.

When I went into the Treasury building, yesterday morning. I inquired for the room in which Mr. Burroughs was, and, having learned that, walked up and down the hall for some time. Once I went to the door of the room, opened it a few inches, and saw him at his desk. The moment looked at him, eiting there so comfortathe thought of all I had suffered, and of his being the cause, enraged me, and my hand involuntatily pulled back trigger of the pistol in my pocket. I closed the door, and, stepping away, moved about again. I know not how or where, except that I kept my eye on his room until the men began to come out of their rooms. Then I placed myself where I knew he would have to come pair me in going to the staircase. When he appeared "I felr anddenly lifted up;" my area was extended as still as iron, and I say him failt: "I knew nothing more until-F-was quite poor; am ninoseen years old; about called back as I was seaving the building, seron years ago I first became acquainted Pray, sir, what will they do with me? If it was not for my poor father and mother. I would not eare."

The Chronicle adds: "She repeatedly reiterated her assevera-tion that there had been nothing improper between her and Mr. Burroughs, and that on yesterday Mrs. Burroughs stated that about twelve months ago Mr. B. received through the mail a strange newspaper, in which was a marriage notice marked, and which she produced and showed to some friends, read somewhat as follows: 'Married, by Bishop Duggan, Mr. Charles Devfor she was a good girl, and had seen some hard times,"

The Burlington Hackeye of yesterday has the following:

"Mary Harris, the young woman who shot and killed A. J. Burroughs in Washington on Monday last, a report of which appeared in our telegraphic columns, was a native of this city, but went to Chicago to reside about two years ago. She had for many years been acquainted with Burroughs, who was for a long time a citizen of Burlington, and it was supposed by the frigude of the parties that promises of marlage had passed between them. Finally Barraughs married a lady in Chicago, up to which time he is said to have carried on a correspondence with Miss Ifarris, and the latter upon learning the fact, vowed she would take his life. She has but too fulthfully kept her word. Her parents reside here, and she has two brothers in the ming,"

UNCLE SAM'S LOTTERY!

GRAND SCHEME FOR 1805. One Hundred and Thirty Six Prizes.

A grand drawing in Uncle Sam's great lottery takes place in the City of Janesville on the 15th of February inst., at which time one hundred and thirty-six persons of the male gender will draw prizes. The thing is as "sure as shooting" and the holders of tickets will be entitled to a good suit of blue clothing, a nive musket and accourrgments, and other little perquisites too numerous to mention. The drawing will be public and all persons interested are invited to be present, to see that every thing is done on the square. No postponement on account of the weather. Front seats reserved for the lucky ones.

Skating Carnival To-night. [For the Cazette.]

Our city fathers having failed to make the railroads see the propriety of removing what the public ignorantly had thought to be a nuisance near the depot, have concluded to turn the grounds into a skating park, regardless of expense. The park is -not being fenced in, and the streets run under the ice. The C. & N. W. R. R. runs along one side and probably will consolidate with the park. Befreshment will be furnished in a measure, and every Birds-nest Cottage, Harmony, Feb. 4, 1865 thing, possible to be made free and casy. Every lame man is expected to be present, The Bower City band has kindly consented to blow their horns for the entertainment of the deaf persons that have been spoken to. The inmates of the Blind Asylum with their soul stirring instruments, have also been invited. They ex-peet to see big things on ice to-night.

Their arrangements are exceedingly neat and tasty, and have been made with especial reference to the prescription and retail drug business, for which the location is admirably adapted. A thorough knowledge of their business, long experience and careful attention to the wants of their customers, have built up for the Messrs. Palmer, a large trade in the drug line, and it is for the convenience of customers on the east side, that the new store is opened.

FOURTH WARD WAR MEETING .- An adjourned meeting of all the enrolled men of the Fourth Ward, and citizens interested, will be held at the Court Room, this Mouday evening, Febuary 6th, at 7 o'clock. It is expected that all those that have subscribed to the fund will be present, as it will be determined whether we shall clear the Ward from the draft or not. Final action will be taken this evening. The Treasurer will be present to receive the money from those that have subscribed.

J. W. D. PARKER, Chairman. G. S. STRASBERGER Secretary.

Poor Richard always strung all his jewels on a moral thread. Following a long way off, I hope my young friends will bear in mind the fact that no two objects in nature, gross or fine, physical or spiritual, can long remain in contact without a degree of assimilation. Then if you are with the evil, be positive and imprint on their characters the better picture of your-480 PM self. If with the good, he plastic and impressive. The negative will certainly take the impress of the positive. If you hang a Daguerrootype in close proximity to a polished plate of steel for a few days and then take it to the window and breathe on it you will perceive the image of the picture in the polished steel. This entalytic action or action of presence illustrates the subtle influences of human nature. Nothing, however, can prevent your being good if you feel as Plato the son of Aristo prayed, when the dying Anaxogoras asked his prayers. Plate parted the silver bairs and imprinted a kies on his forehead; then crowning himself with a garland, knelt before the altar that stood in the apartment and prayed aloud:

"O! thou, who art King of heaven, life and death are in thy hand! Grant what is good for us whether we ask it or ask it not, and refuse that which would be hurtfal even when we ask it most earnestly." " That contains the spirit of all prayer,' said the old philosopher; Plato, "go to thy rest and I will go to mine," and died in-

Now as I practice will-o-the-wisping from one thing to another, if I stop by the way and tell you the earth contains 260,-000,000 square miles and weighs 2 200, 000,000,000,000,000,000 tuns, it may induce you to find the difference between ah English decillion and a French decillion expressed in French notation. If so, yeu will be pretty well prepared tounderstand the sublime wonders of the world within and the world without. . We are parks of living wonders, where the gambols of infancy and the decrepitude of old age becur in the same breath : while distance, 1 Not Profession Chien or magnitude and time seem almost infinite in the world without. But we cannot make "a thousand years as one day," nor pay Milwankee a Prairie du Calea (freight) 539 "one day as a thousand years," although Dr. P. B. Randolph, of New York, declares that while under the complete influence of Prom Milwaukes at Hashish he counted the years that it took to dip his pen in ink and carry it to the paper on which he wrote, which was but the fraction of a minute, and distinctly numbered 650 years, and in walking from his bed to the door of his room it took over now larger than the Central of New York | 10,000 years. In the time the fantasia lasted, which was about four hours, he had a distinct consciousness and experience of many hundred thousand years.

E. RIDER. perfectly reliable. New York, Feb. 5 .- The morning papers throw no light upon the negotiations on the Marietta & Cincinnati Railroad, between Lincoln and Seward and the rebut so hadly burned that but few will be to have proposed to Stephens, Hunter and Campbell, that if they were prepared to promise a return of their States to the Union he was ready to wave all minor questions, but that as Chief Magistrate of the Republic, sworn to maintain the Union he could take into consideration no terms which involved its division. This great point the rebels confessed they did not feel authorized to decide and so the negotiations ended. The conference took place entirely on board one of the other of the Peace Negotiations a Failure three steamers which were anchored in Hampton Ronds, where the negotiations could not interrupted in their proceedings. It was conducted in the most cor-dial and friendly manner on both sides, but on the part of Mr. Lincoln at least, WITH THEREB'L ENVOYS with equal firmness. Great anxiety is now felt to hear from Richmond.

NEW YORE, Feb. 4.—The steamer Geo. Leary arrived here to-day from Hilton Head, with Major Anderson, hearer of important dispatches from General Sherman. Sherman's forces were still advancing victoriously into the very heart of South Carolina, with every prospect of striking a disastrous blow on the rebel forces concentrated in the vicinity of Charleston.

New York, Feb. 5.—A letter from the Department of the South to the Times, dated Feb. 1st, states that a company of the 4th Massachusetts cavalry, under Lieut. Col. Bennet, of Gen Hatch's staff, made a raid last week on the town of Gillensville, situated ten miles west of the Charleston and Savannah Railroad, and eleven from Grahamsville. After burning the Court House, jail and one or two other public buildings, the party returned to Pocataligo. Consumed with the Court House was quite a number of the Beaufort county records, at the loss of which the few inhabitants of the place were considerably grieved. Nearly all of the documents destroyed were of a recent bearing.

A few days before our troops entered the place, a squad of the rebel. Wheeler's cavalry had paid the same place a briof visit and made themselves extremely obnoxious among the towns people by appropriating all the cattle, chickens, hogs and such like property that they could lay their hands upon. The same letter states that a steamer ecently in from the Florida ports brings ns news of the capture of a portion of the 75th Ohio regiment, stationed at Jacksonville. On last Thursday, 40 men in command of a captain proceeded about 15 miles in the direction of Baldwin, their object being to assist a resident family in removing themselves and household goods to within our lines. They reached the house without meeting the enemy, and while engaged loading the wagons were surrounded by 400 mounted rebels. Our men immediately fled to the woods where they were closely followed by the rebels. The result was that only 15 of our men, including the captain, succeeded in getting back to the Union lines. From the statement of up by the party whom it was sought to succor. New York, Feb. 5 .- The Herald's correspondent from Sherman's army described the opening of that General's new cam-paign. The left wing of the army under Sen. Slocum had arrived at Shorters Ferry on the Savannah river fifty miles above the city of Savannah, without meeting any struck out for that point through the State of South Carolina had considerable diffi-culty in getting through the swamps. The embarrassments to contend with. On the 20th ult. all of Slocum's men were at Sisters Ferry and supplies were being rapidly received. The right wing of the army is operating in a better country for marching than the left, and at some dis-

the two is kept uninterrupted. One correspondent states that General Sherman proposes stirring up South Carlina at the rate of twenty miles a day.

Port Royal papers give full particulars the loss of the monitor Polapsco and the gunboat Daching, already recorded.
The Potapsco was sunk in the herbor of Charleston on the night of the 15th of last month by one of the rebel torpedoes. She went down in 20 seconds after she was struck, and 60 of the persons on board of her were drowned, 43 being savceivable form suggesting the most liberal and considerate modification of whatever bahes river, South Carolina, on the 26th and considerate incommendation of whatever in the existing legislation and action of the United States government might with a rebel fort for some hours, and it amendment to the Constitution abolishing cers and crew except four, succeeded in escaping. A few hours paevious to the catastrophe which befell her the Duching captured the blockade runner Coquette from Charleston for Nassau with a cargo of cotton.

New York, Feb. 6 .- The Herald's Washington special says those in a position to know the real facts of the recent peace conference, look upon the result as being very far from a failure. It is impossible for Lincoln or Seward to say to what ex-tent the negotiations have failed or succeeded, until a reply of the report of Stephens and his associates is received from WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 .- It is reported and believed that since the President's return he has related to the Cabinet the particulars of his conference with the rebel commissioners and they all endorse his course. No official action has, however, been taken. o day's Chronicle says Stephens, Hunter, and Campbell have before this laid their case before the Southern people and these people have heard or must soon hear that their leaders would consent to nothing but the recognition of the rebellion. We are of course unable and unauthorized to say how much Mr. Lincoln was willing to concede to. The only condition to honorable peace seems to be declared by the rebel commissioners, that condition being the restoration of the federal Union and obedience to all the laws of Congress.

FROM CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6 .- Hill & Halbert's commission warehouse and the Alleghany House on Water street were destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss about $30,000. In-

Up to last evening eight bodies had been recovered from the wreck of the train Late, Broma, Farine, Oat Meal, Pearl Barley, and Rootlers, St., at the said and the said of the Herald's but fifteen passengers on the train at the correspondent. The President is reported time of the accident.

FROM WASHINGTON.

New York, Feb. 4 .- The Post's Washugton special says Mr. Seward declares without reservation that the peace negotiations were a total failure. There are indications that peace, however, will speedily he won by war, decisive news is expected from Sherman early next week.

New York, Feb. 6.—It is understood that Mr. Fessenden's retirement from the Treasury Department will take place within a few days, and it is confidently predicted, I believe truely, that his successor will he from the city of New York. In the present condition of the finances the certainty that the war is now to be carried on with renewed vigor and determination on both sides, this becomes a question of very great importance.

Washington, Feb. 4—It is said that the President and Mr. Seward have agreed the following described in tree afterneon, the following described introved real estate, the property of the late E.R. Dec.

Two besiness lots on West Milwantees afreet near aid flank, on which are good frame after buildings, viz: the Store new occupied by Dain & Flaher, and the Store next adjoining the same on the East new unocupied. They have a story in Richmond that troops from Thomas' army to reinforce Gen. Grant in front of the rebel capital, have recently passed over the Bultimore & Ohio Railroad. A committee of the North Carolina Lezislature recently had a conference with Jeff Davis. It is said they urged a more igorous prosecution of the war.

An Atlanta correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch says that it will require several months to rebuild the Railroads in Georgia that Sherman destroyed.

FROM GRANT'S ARMY.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF POTOMAC, Feb. 2d .- All the hospitals in the field were cleared a day or two since, the inmates being sent to City Point General Hospital, where they could receive more care and be in better quarters. This change no doubt gave rise to the various rumers of an inended forward movement.

New York, Feb. 5 .- The operations of the detective police, which have been go ing on for some weeks under chief detective Young, in ferreting out the rebel in-cendiaries who lately attempted to burn this city, are made public. These operations were of a most difficult character and were conducted with extraordinary skill and were persevered in with the greatest tenacity. Their most interesting field was in Canada, where they mixed freely with the rebels in Toronto, Hamilton and St. Catherines, and managed to gain the confidence of the incendiaries and by these means they succeeded in their pluns and effected the arrest of a number of those alleged to have been engaged in the plot, including Capt. John Yates, Bellepont, Kennedy and William S. McDonald Kennedy, it is raid, admitted being the person who fired Barnum's Museum. Al hese men are now in confinement.

The Killing of A. J. Enrroughs by Mary Harris, at Washington.

Brief mention has already been made in these columns of the lamentable Washington tragedy, in which Mr. A.J. Burroughs, a well known and highly respectable citizen of Chicago, employed by the Treasury Department at Washington, was shot and almost instantly killed by a young woman from Burlington, Towa, named Mary Harris. The Washington Chronicle of Wednesday published a statement or confession made by the young woman, which certainly relieves the deceased from the suspicion of having been upon terms of criminal in timacy with her. The statement is as fol-

My name is Mary Harris; am the daughter of William Harris, of Burlington, Iowa; my parents are Irish, and are quite poor; am timeteen years old; about seven years ago I first became acquainted in Burlington; Mr. Burroughs was residing there; he came frequently to see me at my father's house, from an early period in our acquaintance until he left Darlington; was very fond of him, and for a long time frequently sat in his lap in the presence of my parents; he always manifested great interest in me; as I grew older and his athigh for me; that he never would marry me, and that I should not keep company sometimes interrupted by my refraining from writing to him. But he would persevere in renewing it, until I would be persunded to write to him. Before he left Burlington he asked me to marry him; I refused because I felt that I was too young to disobey my parents in such a matter, He always protested his ardent affection, and his determination to make me his wife. About two years ago he wrote me that he was raising men, for the war, and ex-pected to get a commission, and then he was determined to marry me. Not long after, I received a letter from Miss Devlin, who keeps a store on Clark street, Chicago, requesting me to come there, saving that she was a friend of Mr. Barroughs, and I could see him there. About twenty months ago, I went to that city. Meantime Mr. Burroughs, who had raised a company of troops, injured his ankle, could not go to the field, and resigned his commission. I saw him frequently, and received notes from him regularly until with in a few weeks of his marriage. In August or September, a year ago, I received an anonymous note asking me to meet the writer at a house which I ascertained was one of "the most notorious in Chicago." Miss Devlin said she believed the note was from Burroughs, and I datermined, if possible, to ascertain the truth. Miss Devlin endeavered to ascertain who put the note in the Post Office. I answered it, at her suggestion, premising to meet the writer at the place appointed. A friend of Miss Devlin in the Post Office watched for the party who came for the reply, and his description confirmed Miss Devlin's supposition, and inclined to the belief that Mr. Burroughs was the person. I then determined to go to the honer ap-pointed, and Miss Derlin went with me. We told her of the appointment, and that my friends would not let me see kim eleswhere. The person in charge of the house stated that the gentleman was not there are the time, but that he had waited there before, and had instructed her not to answer the door-bell, but permit him to do so, saying that unless the party he wished to see saw him she would not come in, and we did not remain. Her description further confirmed me in the belief that Mr. Burroughs was the person who had made the appointment. Another note was received. stating that the writer had been unavoidsbly absent from the city, and making another appointment. I re-olved to go again, meantime taking measures to have the house watched. The person (whom I believe to have been Mr. Burroughs) did not go to the house, and when we went there again it was losed and we could not obtain admittance.

For some time before this I had not seen Mr. Barroughs. The writer of the anonymous letters said he had seen me often was much preposessed in my favor, and wished to be a friend to me. Mr. Burroughs was a man of such marked appearance as not to be easily mistaken for another. I still felt most intense anxiety to be further satisfied, if possible, whether he whom I had so loved, and who had so protested his love for me, could be guilty of any such baseness. I then also deter-mined to prosecute him for breach of promise. I went to see his brother, Professor Burroughs, inquired of him whether Jackson was in the city. He walked the floor, asked me if I was from Iowa, and upon his brother was not then there, but had been and had gone to Washington. Shortly after I learned that he had been married by his brother, the Professor, I think the day after I was there. I then determined to come to Washington and prosecute him, but continually deforred it until only to learn that he had gone to Chicago with his wife. I immediately returned, with his wife. I immediately returned, and on reaching Chiengo employed a inwyer and a detective. I some ascertained that he had again gone to Washington, but that his wife was believed to be in Chiengo, and I supposed that he would return for her. So I waited a long time, with this expectation, but I subsequently learned that he had been there and gone without my knowledge. That renewed my resolve pessible, by presecution, and at all hazards to see him. I had been disowned by my purents. I could not return to them; and in Burlington, as well as in Chicago, I had been reported to have had improper relations with him. This was never so. And I was bent on viridicating my character. If the stories against me had been true, I could never have had the heart to come here to seek redress or to vindicate my repute. I believed that I should wipe our the stain on my name by the prosecution or in some other way, I hardly knew how.

A few days before starting for Chicago

(two weeks ugo), I was walking along the etreet, and saw some pistols in a shop window. Having learned that many of the ladies in Chicogo carried pistols, especially when traveling, I determined to buy printed directions upon the wrapper acgot to unload it. After I started I confrantic with a desire to see him, and put on a "nubia" (which I was not wont to wear) and a veil, and, so disguised, went to the Treasury.

When I went into the Treasury building, yesterday morning, I inquired for the room in which Mr. Burroughs was, and, having learned that, walked up and down the hall for some time. Once I went to the door of the room, opened it a few inchs, and saw him at his desk. The moment looked at him, sisting there so comfortav. the thought of all I had suffered, and of his being the cause, curaged me, and my hand involuntatily pulled back the rigger of the pistol in my pocket. I closed the door, and, stepping away, moved about again. I know not how or where, except that I kept my eye on his room until the men began to come out of their rooms. Then I placed myself where I knew he would have to come near me in going to the staircase. When he appeared I felt suddenly lifted up: my arm was extended as stiff as iron, and I saw him I knew nothing more until-I was called back as I was fearing the building. Pray, sir, what will they do with me? If with Mr. Barroughs; was then in a store it was not for my poor father and mother in Burlington; Mr. Burroughs was resid. I would not care." The Chronicle adds:

"She repeatedly reiterated her asseveration that there had been nothing improper between her and Mr. Barroughs, and that a yesterday Mrs. Burroughs stated that dout twelve mouths ago Mr. B. received through the mail a strange newspaper, in tentions became more of the character of a which was a marriage notice marked, and suitor, my parents opposed them, and conthat Mr. B. requested her to cut it cut and tinually told me that his family was too preserve it, which she did. The notice which she produced and showed to some friends, read somewhat as follows: 'Marwith him. I disregarded them, persisted ried, by Bishop Duggan, Mr. Charles Devin seeing, and became more and more at- lin, of Baltimore, to Miss Mary G. Harris, tached to him. When he left Burlington of Burlington, Iowa. Mr. Burroughs, up-I did not ask him to write to me, but he on reading it, said, he was glad to learn of had not been long gone when I received a the marriage; hoped she had done well, letter from him, which I answere I and a for she was a good girl, and had seen some correspondence was continued, which was hard times."

The Burlington Hackeye of yesterday has the following:

"Mary Harris, the young woman who shot and killed A. J. Burroughs in Washington on Monday last, a report of which appeared in our telegraphic columns, was a native of this city, but went to Chicago to reside about two years ago. She had for many years been acquainted with Barroughs, who was for a long time a citizen of Berlington, and it was suprosed by the friends of the parties that promises of marriage had passed between them. Finally Burroughs married a lady in Chicago, up to which time he is said to have carried on a correspondence with Miss Harris, and the latter upon learning the fact, vowed she would take his life. She his lut teo faithfully kept her word. Her parents reside here, and she has two brothers in the

After leaving played on the Plano of Mesora. Evalue & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimory to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Planos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The based is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmonically mellow, (chrystatine.) and I do not hesitade to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal it not superior to the best manufactured in Europe of this country by the most evidential makers.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its prules. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A transpounding aday of the Constitution. Water will relieve you like magic.

PHYSICIANS Have long since given up the use of buchu, cubebs and juniper in the treatment of these diseases, and only use them for the want of a better remedy. CONSTITUTION WATER

Both diseases arising from a faulty secretion of the menatrual fluid—in one case being too little and accompanied by servere psin, and the other a too profuse secretion, which will be speedily cured by the Constitution Water.

That disease known as FALLING OF THE WOMB, which is the result of a relaxation of the ligaments at that organ, and is known by a sense of heaviness and dragging pains in the back and saides, and at times arcompanied by sharp, laneinating or shooting pains through the parts, will, in all cases, he removed by the medicine.

This is an affection of the blood, and attucks the sexual organs, linings of the nose, ears, throat, windplie, and other tanemous surfaces, making its appearance in the form of ulcers. Helmitold's Extract Sarsapa Illa purifies the blood, and remove all scaly cruptions of the skin, giving to the complexion a clear and healthy color. It being prepared expressly for this class of complaints, its blood purifying properties are preserved to a greater extent than any other preparation or Sarsyanilla. There is another class of symptoms arising from IR-HTATION OF THE WOMH, which physicians call RITATION OF THE WOMB, which physicians call Nervousness, which word covers up much ignorance, and in nine cases out of fen the doctor does not really know whether the symptoms are the disease, or the disease the symptoms. We can onl enumerate them here. I speak more particularly of Colf Fett, Palpitation of the Heart, Impaired Memory, Wakelulness, Flashes of Heat, Languer, Lassitude, and Dinness of Vision.

UNCLE SAM'S LOTTERY!

GRAND SCHEME FOR 1865 One Hundred and Thirty Six Prizes.

A grand drawing in Uncle Sam's great lottery takes place in the City of Janesville on the 15th of February inst., at which time one hundred and thirty-six persons of the male gender will draw prizes. The thing is as "sure as shooting" and the holders of tickets will be entitled to a good suit of blue clothing, a nice musket and accoutrements, and other little perquisites too numerous to mention. The drawing will be public and all persons interested are invited to be present, to see that every thing is done on the square. No postponement on account of the weather. Front sents reserved for the lucky ones.

From Rev. G. W. Lawernee:

Mr. Dorr—I confess I have been quite skeptical in regard to the utility of washing machines, until we gave yours a tral. Having tested it thoroughly, we are fully prepard to say, unsolicited, that we regard it as a capital machine. The principle upon which it works is the true one—removing the dirt effectually without injuring the clothes in the slightest manner. My wite endowes it heartly as a labor-saving machine, and considers it truly a "Paragon." With "Dory's Paragon Clothes Wusher," and the "Galversa' Clothes Wringer," washing day is no longer dreaded as in days of yors.
